Subject: Cessna Global Alternate Method of Compliance for Airworthiness Directive
2001-06-17 (aka: Alternate Means of Compliance of general applicability)

Reference: L390-14-0708, dated April 4, 2014, same subject

Dear Mr. Bouma:

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has received your proposal dated April 4, 2014 proposing an alternate method of compliance (AMOC) to Airworthiness Directive (AD) 2001-06-17, paragraphs (d) (1) thru (d) (4).

The Wichita Aircraft Certification Office (ACO) approves your AMOC proposal to paragraphs (d) (1) thru (d) (4) of AD 2001-06-17. In accordance with FAA Order 8110.103A, dated September 28, 2010, the following conditions apply:

1. Cessna Aircraft Company global AMOC 2001-06-17 applies to the following AD paragraphs:
  - a) Paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) of AD 2001-06-17 concerning inspections and adjustment to ensure proper engine idle speed and fuel mixture setting. This AMOC approves the replacement of the inspections and adjustment called for in AD 2001-06-17 with an annual or 100-hr inspection and adjustment as defined in the Cessna 172R and 172S Maintenance Manual (MM), Revision 14 or later contained in Section 5-10-01, Item Code 730003; specifically for "Idle and Mixture" and conducted in accordance with same MM, Section 73-00-01 as defined in Paragraph 7 for "Idle Speed and Mixture Adjustment".
  - b) Paragraphs (d) (3) and (d) (4) of AD 2001-06-17 concerning addition of the information into the Pilots Operating Handbook and FAA approved Airplane Flight Manual (POH/AFM). This AMOC approves the replacement of that information with that contained in the POH/AFM (identity and revision level) found in TABLE I below for the specific airplane model, serial number and flight instrument equipment package listed.

2. Cessna Aircraft Company global AMOC 2001-06-17 applies to the following Cessna airplanes contained in TABLE I below:

TABLE I
Alternate Approved
Pilot's Operating Handbook & FAA approved Airplane Flight Manuals

3. Cessna Aircraft Company global AMOC 2001-06-17 does not require special or additional maintenance documents.
4. Cessna Aircraft Company global AMOC 2001-06-17 is transferable.
5. All provisions of AD 2001-06-17 that are not specifically referenced above remain fully applicable and must be complied with accordingly. This AMOC should be retained as a part of the airplane permanent records.
6. Before using Cessna Aircraft Company global AMOC 2001-06-17, notify your appropriate principal inspector, or lacking a principal inspector, the manager of the local FAA Flight Standards District Office/certificate holding district office.
7. The Wichita ACO will revoke this AMOC if the Wichita ACO later determines that this AMOC does not provide an acceptable level of safety.
